GLORY & GRIT

SEASON 2 • EPISODE 15 • COMPANION PAGE

When the Story Does Not Have a Perfect Ending

Where has God met me in the part of my story that is still unfinished?

TRUTH TO CARRY	PRAYER PROMPT
I do not have to wait for a perfect ending to tell the truth about how God has carried me.	Ask God to help you hold your unresolved hope honestly, notice one way He has met you, and know what is yours to do and what you can entrust to Him.

REFLECT

- What ending have I been waiting for before I feel allowed to speak about this season?
- What ordinary help, provision, or person have I nearly dismissed because it did not resolve everything?
- Where might loving someone require a boundary or a release of control?

GRIT PRACTICE • NAME THE MIDDLE

Write both lines. Let both stay true:

I am still hoping for...	I have already seen...

ONE FAITHFUL STEP

If it feels safe, share the second line with one trusted person; keep other people's private stories private.

CLOSING REMINDER
Surrender does not require you to stop loving or hoping. You can tell the truth about what still hurts and the care that has already met you.

Share this page gently with someone who may need encouragement.
